Large losses: 98 | Large wins: 88

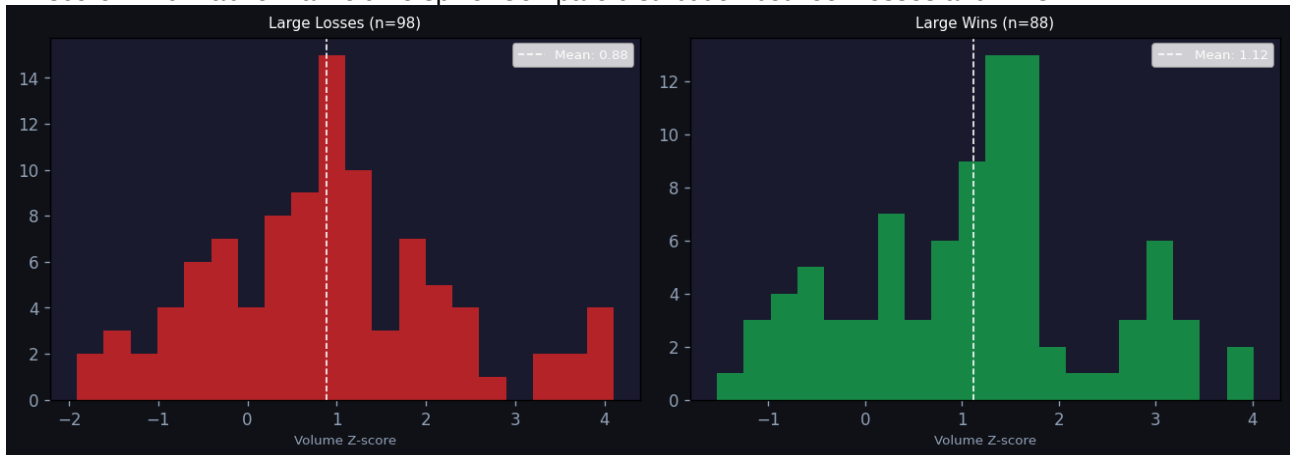

ATR Ratio at Entry (current ATR / 50-bar average)

ATR ratio > 2.0 = volatility spike. High ratio during losses = entered during dangerous conditions.

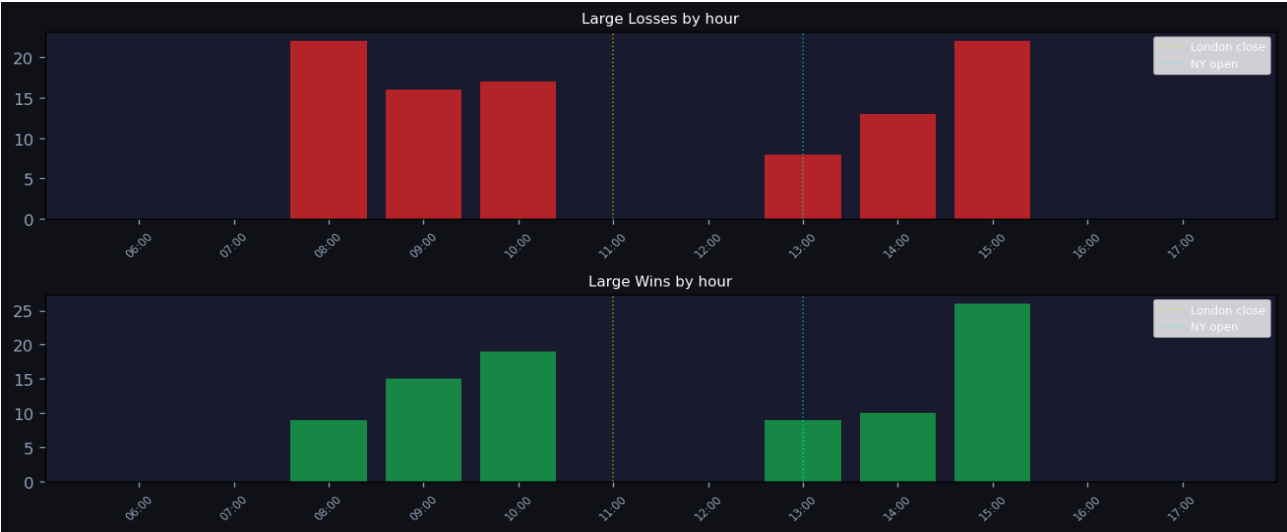

Volume Z-Score at Entry

Z-score > 2.0 = abnormal volume spike. Compare distribution between losses and wins.

Hour of Day Distribution

Counter-Trend Entry Analysis

Price Extension at Entry (distance from H4 EMA20 in ATR units)

High extension = entering when price is already far from equilibrium. A value > 2 means price is 2x ATR away from EMA20 — overextended.

H4 Consecutive Same-Direction Candles at Entry

Many consecutive candles in the same direction = momentum continuation risk. High count = entering into an already extended move.
